This Week's Highlights

- Nursery children have been exploring using shapes to represent objects as they paint. We are hoping that our butterflies emerge from their cocoons very soon; we can't wait to see them!
- Reception children have enjoyed listening to the next part of our story, King of Tiny things and learning about how we can show kindness. This has given us some ideas about how we can help to care for different minibeasts and we have begun to make some plans to change our outdoor area.
- Year 1 have been listening to Goldilocks and the Three Bears this week to help them think about their own fairy tales. They have also been working hard in maths to subtract while also using money!
- Year 2 have been working hard on their fractions this week. We have been looking at finding unit and non-unit fractions of amounts. The children did well recalling their knowledge of division and their times tables to help them find halves and thirds.
- Year 3 have had a wonderful time creating their own fossils in science and finding out about Tudor illnesses and diseases in history.
- Year 4 have enjoyed learning about fractions this week. We have refreshed our knowledge through looking at familiar and unfamiliar representations of halves and quarters and learned the new mathematical words numerator and denominator.
- Year 5 have all shown resilience with their fractions work and have continued with their newspaper reports in English. They have all worked extremely hard in science and enjoyed taking part in our class investigations.
- Year 6 have really loved taking part in some practical, outdoor learning in Maths. We are angle experts now! We've also been blown away with the enthusiasm for writing this week. We have focused on building atmosphere and creating fear in our reader.

Our value next week
